

RECENT DEATHS.

Piper.
Samuel H. Piper died at his home on Water street August 25. He was born in Charleston, 62 years ago. Most of his life had been spent in St. Johnsbury Center until he moved there about two years ago. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Carrie Manning Piper, also by one sister, Mrs. J. E. Stone of Bellows Falls. Funeral services were held at his home August 28, the Rev. F. S. Colman officiating. Interment was at St. Johnsbury Center.

Armstrong.
Stuart Armstrong, for many years well known figure in St. Johnsbury, died at Waterbury August 29. He was born in Canada, May 27, 1849. He worked at Fairbanks at one time and for the last few years had been living for lawns around St. Johnsbury. He was taken to Waterbury about two months ago. The funeral was held at the grave Monday afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. E. P. Colman officiating. Of his several children who survive him, his son, Robert, lives in St. Johnsbury.

Municipal Court.
Those who will face Judge Porter's municipal court tomorrow morning are Joseph Lawrence and Joseph Brown, arrested for intoxication and Frank Blower and Mrs. Carrie Colcomb, who are detained on a charge of adultery. It is alleged that the latter couple have been living together as man and wife for some time. Wilfred Laventure and Annie Laventure, for whom warrant were issued nearly a year ago, returned from Canada last week and paid fines of $11.04 each for breach of the law.

Repeats His Lecture by Request.
Howard E. Kershner of Kansas will repeat the lecture he gave here before the prohibition state convention last month in the Town Hall Thursday evening of this week at eight o'clock. Mr. Kershner is a remarkably convincing and entertaining speaker and the St. Johnsbury prohibition club take great pleasure in affording St. Johnsbury people another opportunity to hear him.

McINDOE FALLS
Old Home Day Draws 500 Back to the Academy—Speeches and Drama the Program.

The seventh annual Old Home Day of the McIndoes Academy alumni association was held on the Academy grounds Thursday, August 27. More than 500 people were present during the day, while in the evening the hall was crowded for the five act drama, "The Country Minister." After a base ball game in the morning dinner was served in the church vestry. At 2:30 came the public exercises on the Academy campus which were in charge of Rev. Mr. Bliss of McIndoes, pastor of the Congregational church, who introduced Rev. Mr. Clark of Barnet who offered prayer. The first speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Mr. Burns of Monroe, N. H., who was followed by the Rev. Mr. Brownlee of Barnet Center. Both spoke briefly upon the significance of Old Home Day. Then followed a few remarks by M. A. Gibson of Merceburg, Pa., who spoke briefly on the present European situation. The principal address of the day was given by James Campbell, Esq., of St. Johnsbury. He spoke of the importance of the home in the community and national life of our country. Following the exercises the crowd adjourned to Gleason hall where the Passumpsic base ball team defeated the McIndoes team by the score of 7 to 6. Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by the Gleason Concert Band. The drama in the evening was especially well rendered, having been thoroughly trained by Dr. Baker. Young's orchestra furnished excellent music between the acts. Cast of characters: Rev. Ralph Underwood, the country minister, Brock Duncan; Gregory Heath, of the world at large, Dr. Baker; Jud Pardoe, a wreck on the ocean of life, Norman Van Dyke; Timothy Hodd, who rather whittle than work, Alexander Gilchrist; Deacon Potter, "just a trifle deaf," Will Frazer; William Henry, Herbert Burrill; Tom Sparrow, Leslie Frazer; Helen Burleigh, from the city, Winnie Duncan; Jerusha Jane Judkins, the post mistress, Lucy Buffum; Roxy, "a fresh air kid," Adine Lawler; Granny Grimes, Florence Gibson; Fanny, a maid, Alice Moore. The Alumni association met in the afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Miss Abbie Van Dyke; vice-president, Mrs. Jean Phelps; secretary, C. B. Duncan; treasurer, Miss Nellie Manchester; executive committee, Percy Van Dyke, Miss Alice Phelps, Mrs. Robert Kendall, Roger Crane and Miss Alice Moore. The proceeds of the day's entertainment will be applied to the needs of the Academy. The officers and members of the Alumni association wish to take this occasion to thank all who so kindly helped on the various committees, and also to invite all friends of the Academy to return again to the next Old Home Day celebration.
